

Meet climb

We've funded the education of over 75,000 people in over 20 industries — education that's resulted in over $110 million net new salary earnings!¹

We evaluate every program, and we only partner with schools that have passed our verification process. Our goal is to make sure that when we finance a program, it's one that actually benefits the people who enroll in it.²

"Climb does a really good job of informing you and being very transparent ... it's probably one of the easiest payments to keep track of out of anything else I have on my plate."

-Luis

"I was very new to this type of lending process, so it was really nice to have this go smoothly when I was already making this huge life decision and these really big commitments."

-Christy

"I think having a good product like Climb and not having to go through a bank or something like that was super helpful, and I was really thankful for that."

1. This figure is based on an analysis of nearly 5,000 survey responses. The data points include Climb's all-time survey respondents, with duplicate responders removed, that both: 1) reported to have graduated from their program and 2) reported both pre-program and post-program income data. The calculation was arrived at by finding the difference between each respondent's post-program income and pre-program income, and then adding the income changes for all respondents together. Note that this figure includes income decreases in addition to income increases. Sample size reflects roughly 14% of funded borrowers.
